

My wife and I purchased XM radio because of the programming, including the Instant Traffic and Weather, that it provides. We have over 100 channels to choose from, which would not be available to us any other way. We're appalled that you feel you have the right to dictate what we are allowed to hear on a radio, which we paid for, and service, for which we pay a monthly fee. Instant Traffic and Weather are not only a public service, but could also provide life-saving information.

We hope the Fcc will reject NAB's petition 04-160, so XM will be able to provide the programming that we want and for which we are willing to pay.

Thank you.
